

UNTERMYER URGES LOCKWOOD SUPPORT

Voters Irrespective of Party
Are Asked to Elect Him
Comptroller.

PRaises PUBLIC RECORD

Housing and Educational Legislation of Senator Is Recalled.

"Firm as the Rock of Gibraltar" is the characterization of State Senator Charles C. Lockwood, coalition candidate for Comptroller, made yesterday by Samuel Untermyer, independent Democrat, in an open letter to the voters asking them to vote for the Senator. "Regardless alike of his private interests and his political interests," Mr. Untermyer said he found him in their association together as counsel and chairman respectively of the Lockwood Housing Committee.

The fact that he was a regular Democrat, and expected to remain one, did not require him to violate his obligations as a citizen, the lawyer said. Therefore, his support of Senator Lockwood, on whose behalf he expects to make several addresses later in the campaign.

"In view of a feeling of exceptional satisfaction that I hasten to avail myself of the opportunity to commend the support of Senator Lockwood for election as Comptroller of our great city."

"Senator Lockwood is no novice in public service and I shall leave to others the recital of his splendid record and accomplishments, of which the housing and educational legislation, the bill going away with duplicate inspection of buildings, the law increasing the pay of all State employees, are instances.

"In 1918 the legislative secretary of the State Federation of Labor, referring to Senator Lockwood said of him:

"On his record he is entitled to the vote and support of every working man in the district."

"There is little I can add to what you know of him beyond my personal experience, as they may be useful to you in reaching your conclusion as to what is best for the welfare of the city."

Senator Lockwood is no novice in public service and I shall leave to others the recital of his splendid record and accomplishments, of which the housing and educational legislation, the bill going away with duplicate inspection of buildings, the law increasing the pay of all State employees, are instances.

"I am a lifelong Democrat and a believer of party government as the only feasible vehicle for the expression of public will. I accordingly am and have been all my life and expect to remain a member of the local Democratic organization, but that fact does not require me to violate my obligations as a citizen, and so I shall support Senator Lockwood in the pending campaign."

"When Senator Lockwood, a Republican chairman of a Republican legislative committee, invited me, a Democrat and a stranger to him, to conduct the housing investigation I hesitated, because I knew of the difficulties ahead of us and of the powerful political and financial interests that I realized and prophesied would be arrayed against us as soon as it was understood that the inquiry would be searching and fearless and would affect their interests. That prophecy came true, but I found Senator Lockwood as firm as the Rock of Gibraltar alike against the threats and persuasions of those interests and of the politicians of his own party. Again and again he literally took his political life in his hands in upholding me in exposing without fear or favor wrongdoings alike of labor leaders, high finance, officials of life and fire insurance companies and great captains of industry who were all potent in his party. He knew neither friend nor foe and was literally reckless alike of his private interests and his political future in the performance of his duty."

"That is the type of a man we so sorely need and of whom we have so few in public life. If there were more of them this city would soon cease to be the Mecca of political adventurers and grafters that it is to-day. That is why I appeal to you, irrespective of party and in your own interest, to elect Senator Lockwood Comptroller. You

HOLD DOCTOR KEPT FAITH WITH MRS. J. A. STILLMAN

State Osteopaths Decide the Court and Not Dr. Russell
Was Responsible for Divulging Statements Dealing With Parentage of Guy, Then Unborn.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22.—Dr. Hugh L. Russell, Buffalo osteopath, was exonerated by the New York State Osteopathic Society to-day of all charges of unethical conduct in testifying for James A. Stillman in the latter's divorce suit relative to statements Mrs. Stillman made to the physician as his patient and dealing with the parentage of the then unborn Guy Stillman.

The matter was brought before the State convention of the osteopaths by Dr. Russell himself, who in a letter to that body said he understood the question had arisen at the national osteopathic convention in Cleveland and had not been decided.

He asked the State convention to take action on the matter. Accordingly a committee was named, and for two days these men studied a transcript of the evidence given by the physician, and went over the code of civil procedure relative to privileged conversations between physicians and patients. To-night the committee reported that the court and not Dr. Russell was responsible for the latter's divulging Mrs. Stillman's confidential statements to him.

cannot afford to lose him, for he cannot be replaced."

Speaking on the transit situation yesterday Senator Lockwood referred to many persons whose damage judgments against the surface companies were remaining unsatisfied.

The dilatory and obstructive policy of Comptroller Craig," he said, "in opposing any settlement of the transportation question urgently demanded by the public is working a cruel hardship to several thousand holders of unsatisfied judgments against the companies."

Senator Lockwood has no speaking engagement for to-day, but in addition to the regular coalition meetings to-morrow night he will speak at the Central Branch, Y. M. C. A., 55 Hanson place, Brooklyn.

14 BALLOONS SALVAGE YACHT FROM MUD BED

Engineers Watch Novel Job in Harlem Ship Canal.

Fourteen balloons lifted out of the mud yesterday the 110 foot steel yacht formerly owned by John Murat, which for sixteen months has hampered navigation in the vicinity of Sherman Creek Basin, off the Harlem Ship Canal, in which it sank. Fourteen balloons, each with a lifting capacity of twenty-five tons, were inflated, and as they lifted, they drew on cables which had been burrowed through the mud under the ship, and lifted the hull as if in a cradle. The pumping began at 2 o'clock in the presence of many engineers and shipping men, and at 4 o'clock the yacht was on the surface.

GILROY QUESTIONS HYLAN AS AN ASSET

Discusses in Brooklyn Mayor's Own Valuation as Honest Man.

An admonition to the voters to weigh carefully the qualifications of Mayor Hylan before taking them at Mr. Hylan's own valuation was the basis of addresses made in Brooklyn last night by Vincent Gilroy, coalition candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen.

Mr. Gilroy laid special stress on the Mayor's promises concerning the schools and his failure to fulfill them. Senator Lockwood, who as coalition candidate for Comptroller, spoke at all the meetings addressed by Mr. Gilroy, also discussed the schools exhaustively with figures.

"Mayor Hylan," Mr. Gilroy said, "has made great use as campaign material, in those districts of Brooklyn which he deems to be strongholds of the plain people, of the statements that he is uncultured and honest. Let his lack of culture pass as conceded and take up his statement that he is honest."

"Now, honesty is a quality which may seem to be and yet not be. No one has ever charged Mr. Hylan with taking a crooked dollar. No one believes he ever took one."

"But when a man is the pliable tool, even if unconsciously, of the ring of crooks who govern New York from Fourteenth street, is it honest to the people of the city of New York that he be continued in office? If a man who himself boasts that he is uncultured is in office, and is so lacking in knowledge of what city government should be that he does not know what is honestly due to the people from the officials they elect, is it honest to keep him in office? Honesty in a thing as vast as a great city government is a question beyond whether one man is or is not above taking dirty money. It is a question in the case between Henry H. Curran and John F. Hylan whether it is fairer to the people to have Curran their Mayor or for them to have Hylan."

On the question of the schools Mr. Gilroy drew his facts from the revelations brought out by the Lockwood committee on building and construction contracts and insisted it was not honest for the Mayor not to know better than to let such things happen.

Senator Lockwood said on the matter of schools:

"Who is responsible for the failure to build schools within the last four years? Mayor Hylan says that Mr. La Guardia, President of the Board of Aldermen, is one of the most competent and attentive city officials. Mayor La Guardia says, October 18, 1921: 'The delay in the purchase of school sites is due entirely to the obstruction of Comptroller Craig in purposely delaying investigations and withholding reports which he is required to make to the Board of Aldermen. Action was obtained, after months of delay by Comptroller Craig, only by going over his head.'"

"President Prall of the Board of Education, who was appointed by Mayor Hylan, said, June 23, 1921: 'If any one man in this city is responsible for the conditions in the schools that person is the Comptroller (Craig), who has so successfully opposed the spending of money for that purpose.'"

"Mr. Prall further states: 'The school site at Coney Island which Comptroller Craig wishes to purchase is half under water.'"

"District Attorney Lewis states publicly that Comptroller Craig delayed the selection of this much needed school site for three and a half years and very properly asks if it takes that long to select a site, how long will it take to build schools?"

"The Board of Education report further charges Comptroller Craig with rejecting a bid of $751,000 for a high school addition, and three months later letting the same work to the same contractor for $988,000."

In addition Mr. Brown pledged $5,000 annually for maintenance of the centre for the duration of his life.

COMPETITION KEEN FOR U. S. JUDGESHIP

Representative Siegel Is One of Four Leaders in Race to Succeed Mayer.

The keenest sort of competition is now on for the place on the United States District Court left vacant by the promotion of Judge Julius M. Mayer directly by Washington.

Although the field is not quite so large the race is every bit as strenuous as it was for the post of United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York. At that time the organization was unable to make a selection, and William Hayward was chosen directly by Washington.

Leading candidates are Representatives Isaac Siegel of the Twentieth district, Francis A. Winslow of Yonkers, former District Attorney of Westchester county, Frank L. Stoddard, leader of the Tenth Assembly district here, and Henry Goddard, who has been prominent in the work of the National Republican Club. Municipal Court Justice John R. Davies also is being mentioned in some quarters.

Although the field is not quite so large the race is every bit as strenuous as it was for the post of United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York. At that time the organization was unable to make a selection, and William Hayward was chosen directly by Washington.
